

BENEFICIARIES OF FAMOUS IRON MASTER ARE MANY

Andrew Carnegie Left $4,500,000 Fund for Former Employees

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—On the tombstone of the iron master, Andrew Carnegie in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery is the epitaph he wrote:

"Here lies a man who knew how to enlist in his service better men than himself."

Documents made public today and filed in the appellate division of the supreme court in support of an appeal asking that a $4,500,000 pension fund created by Carnegie's will be declared unenforceable sounded a practical overture of the keynote of the epitaph. "The documents showed that 600 men and women more than 80 years old were on the pension list of the Scotch iron master who died in 1919."

Some of the beneficiaries receive $100 a month. Some are workmen grown too old for their trades; some have been downed by sudden misfortune. One of them is a viscount of London; is the widow of a railroad engineer. Both most of them are men who were enlisted in the service of Andrew Carnegie.

To Miss Helen Keller the famous girl who is deaf, dumb and blind the Carnegie Pension fund grants an annuity of $2,500. Viscount John Morley of Wimbledon Park, London, is provided with $9,000 pounds sterling a year after reaching the age of 80, according to the pension provisions. Hundreds of others whose names are unfamiliar on news pages but which were once written on the payrolls of steel mills and plants in Pennsylvania receive incomes of varying size from the fund.

Several letters from Mr. Carnegie in regard to the care of obscure friends were made public today by Robert A. Franks, who for many years directed the disposal of the pension fund. One girl who is deaf, dumb and his wife:

"They are old, no longer able to work, and on the verge of losing their minds."

CAMPAIGN LETTERS FLOOD LOCAL OFFICE

Forty thousand extra pieces of mail have been handled since Wednesday evening by the employees of the Jacksonville post office, carriers and clerks all working overtime in order that campaign literature and letters broadcast by the local candidates may reach its destination without disastrous delay. "A livelier mail campaign than for several years," is the comment made by an official of the service, who states, however, that there have been no increase in the average mail thru campaign literature coming in from outside.

WAIST LINE IS TO BE BROUGHT BACK TO FASHION

Paris Style Makers Take Liberties With Women's Dresses

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Paris style makers having demonstrated that they can raise or lower women's skirts almost as easily as they manipulate a window shade, now are getting ready to bring back the vanished waist line which went into the discard along with corsets.

This was the word brought back from France today by David N. Mossesohn, head of the Associated Press Industries of America, word which he said leaked out of the conference now being held to determine next Spring's styles.

Just where the waistline will be located has not been decided but there will be waistlines and corsets to hold them in place, Mr. Mossesohn predicted.

"Just what size a normal 28 inch waist should be is a question," he said. "It is safe to assume that it will not be reduced to 18 inches as in the olden days. There will be enough of the straight life to satisfy the universal demand for comfort. American women need not worry."

Skirts Six Inches From Ground.
Chicago, Nov. 3.—Six inches from the ground for skirts for street wear and four inches for evening gowns is Chicago's demand for this season, according to announcement today by the head buyer of a leading woman's wear shop.

"Conservatism is the note in Chicago," said Mme. Alla Ripley, president of the Fashion Art League of America. "We approve shorter street suits, from six to seven inches from the ground, according to the woman who wears them. Evening and dinner dresses are longer, about four inches, although frequently there are points and ends that touch the floor."

CALLS GAS WELL ONE OF GREATEST EVER

B. E. Hicks, Iowa Operator, Thinks Local Field Very Promising—Well on Harris Farm a Record Breaker.

B. E. Hicks of Iowa, Kans., is spending a number of days in Jacksonville having been attracted here by the gas well on the Harris farm northeast of the city. Mr. Hicks has been associated with the oil and gas business for a period of years in a successful way and is a friend of Mr. Irwin, who is operating in the local field.

Mr. Hicks said yesterday that he was greatly surprised at the volume of the well on the Harris farm, that in his experience he had never seen as large a production at such a distance.

Mr. Irwin originally intended to drill deeper, but has practically decided to cap the well and move the rig to another location. The well is producing gas at a volume far in excess of any expectation and also the drill has only gone two feet into the sand and there are always certain dangers of drilling deeper and it is for that reason that Mr. Irwin plans to cap the well.

In this view Mr. Hicks is in agreement with Mr. Irwin. Last night Mr. Irwin indicated his intention of moving the rig to the Trotter farm which is immediately west of the Harris farm. Mr. Irwin has leases on several thousand acres of land and is protected in any direction from the Harris well.

BUSINESS HELD UP BY PRESENT CAR SHORTAGE

Shortage is Largest in History of Country Railway Age Says

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The present car shortage is the largest in history the Railway Age announced tonight basing the statement on reports received by the car service division of the American Railway association on Oct. 15, which show a net deficit of 152,034 cars. The largest previous shortage was reported on Sept. 1, 1920, when 146,070 cars were said to be lacking.

"For the first time in its history," the Railway Age said, "the country is confronted at the very beginning of a period of business revival not only with a shortage of transportation but with the most acute shortage that ever existed. There is only one remedy for this situation and this is the expansion of railroad facilities."

Discussing the question whether in the months immediately ahead the car shortage will decline or increase, the Railway Age reaches the conclusion that it will increase.

REPUBLICANS MASS MEETINGS ARE HELD

Several Enthusiastic Gatherings in the City Friday Evening.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic mass meetings of Republicans during the present campaign was held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Muse in South Clay avenue, with a large attendance of both men and women.

The county candidates were on a campaign trip to Meredosia and did not arrive until late in the evening. During the time they were waiting for the candidates many of the ladies were called upon for brief remarks, among the number being Mrs. Grant and Mrs. John J. Reedy. Mrs. N. J. Blue presided at this meeting. Other enthusiastic meetings were held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Moscoe Sutton in Hackett avenue and at Frank Wright's place in North West street.

At a late hour the county candidates and Samuel Moore, candidate for the legislature made their appearance and were greeted with old time applause. There was speech making and an old time Republican love feast developed.

The chair called upon the following who made enthusiastic addresses: Samuel Moore, Judge Samuel C. S. Black, Harry Norris, G. L. Riggs, J. C. Colton and G. A. Dunlap. Delicious refreshments were served and then all joined in singing, "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." The meeting adjourned after announcement of another gathering, with Mr. and Mrs. Marion Meadows, 912 Cox street tonight.

The last and final rally will be held Monday evening at Tabernacle Hall next to the Trades and Labor Assembly building on South Main street. If a larger place can be secured notice will be given to that effect.

Republicans File Supplemental Reports

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—On the eve of the campaign windup the Republican congressional committee showed in a supplemental report filed today with the clerk of the house a number of districts in which it had sent money on behalf of Republican candidates. Ohio, Missouri, Michigan, Indiana, Maryland, New York and Tennessee were among the states where active work is under way in the fight to hold seats.

Contributions of the committee since its last statement were $9,726, of which $5,000 or more than one half was turned over to it by the Republican senatorial committee. Among candidates in whose interest it sent funds were:

Ohio—Representative Morgan, Foster, Rickett and Moore, $500 each. Thompson $344 and Fitzgerald $250.

The sum of $250 each was sent to Representatives Begg and Speaks for organization and education. Missouri—Ralph Killam, campaign manager for Representative Rhodes, $1,000; Representative Hays and Hukriede $500 each; C. L. Faust, nominee in the fourth district $500.

The sum of $500 was sent to Iowa in behalf of Representative Townes; S. A. Lambden, nominee in the third Indiana and Hugh Shepperd, nominee in the first Michigan district got $500 back. The report of the Republican senatorial committee showed $2,500 was sent Theodore Niedringhaus, St. Louis, and $5,000 to Dr. Edward Clement, St. Louis for the Missouri committee organization and other purposes.

There were no additional expense statements today by candidates for the senate. House candidates continued to send in their reports, but few aside from those published yesterday reported election expenses today in excess of $1,000. Representative Moore of the 19th Illinois spent $2300 and Mrs. St. Clair Moss, candidate in the eighth, Missouri, spent $291, which was one dollar more than it cost Speaker Gillett.

The flying squadron of Indiana a proli organization filed a supplemental report showing receipts of $2,172 and disbursement of $795. Its fund is used largely for expenses of prohibition speakers.

Wayne B. Wheeler as treasurer of the campaign committee of the anti-Saloon League of America sent in a supplemental statement showing no additional contributions and expenditures of $461 in Illinois, Maryland, Ohio and Vermont to aid in the election of congressmen opposed to and to defeat candidates favorable to the beer and wine nullification amendment to the National prohibition act. The money was used mainly for printing and circulation of documents against beer and wine and listed some candidates heretofore mentioned in league reports.

WALLACE CREATES GREAT OUT OF DOORS SHRINE IN COLORADO

Sets Aside 360 Acres of Holy Cross Forest for Devotionals

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—A great out of doors shrine for all denominations in full view of the huge snow cross on Holy Cross Mountain in Western Colorado is created by an order of Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture, announced today, setting aside 360 acres of the Holy Cross National Forest for devotionals.

The tract was selected in a situation giving full view of the snow formed by two large fissures in the mountain side which are perpetually filled with snow and from which the mountain and national forest get their names. The cross is 600 feet long on the mountain side.

Secretary Wallace's order provides that no one sect or religious denomination may be given the exclusive right to use the area but that it be so managed that any denomination may be given the privilege of erecting shrines or other structures to be used for devotionals purposes. Adequate spaces will be provided for public camping grounds and buildings.

NEW YORK FIRE AGAIN CLAIMS ITS TOLL OF VICTIMS

Three Dead, Seven Injured in Celluloid Factory Fire

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Three women leaped to death today from a burning celluloid factory and seven girls and one man, suffocated by the heavy fumes, were burned or injured as they fought to escape. One of the seriously injured may die. The three women victims were within a few inches of rescue when they fell from third story windows. The firemen had hoisted an aerial near one who stood on a coping facing the street while the flames reached her. As the firemen neared her the coping gave way and she dropped with a shriek to the sidewalk. Shouting to the other to retain her grip on the sill from which she hung, firemen shifted the ladder but before they could stretch their arms to her she fell.

The fire, starting on the second floor occupied by Henry Schreiber & Co., makers of celluloid hair ornaments trapped a half dozen girl workers who had just returned from lunch and swept to the third floor where a dozen women and several men employed in the embroidery shop of Samuel Mara became panic as means of escape were cut off.

Firemen battling their way thru the flames and streams of water were played upon them by fumes that were suffocating on both floors but not until a number of workers were badly burned and overcome in desperate efforts to escape.

Mars, proprietor of the embroidery shop, performed heroic work when he climbed a small ladder, reaching from a first floor fire escape extension to a second floor window and sought to aid girls threatening to jump as flames endangered them. He had aided two to the ground when a third losing her balance, fell and carried Mars with her to the street. Both were badly injured.

Chief Fire Marshal Brophy said the fire started when a quantity of celluloid was ignited by some one heating artificial gems over an electric stove.

DAWES PANS PEWEE POLITICIANS

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—General Charles G. Dawes, former director of national budget, speaking tonight at the annual banquet of the bankers club assailed department heads at Washington as "demagogues" and scored congress as being filled with "Pewee" politicians.

He accused Governor Small of Illinois as being derelict in his business management of state affairs.

"The budget system isn't worth anything if the president gives up his authority and responsibility," he said. "Reduction in expenses for the first year under the budget was effected by executive pressure. Congress didn't have anything to do with it."

These department heads who came to Washington what do they or can they know about this business? They come as the interested advocates of the bureau chiefs, whom they seek to please even to the extent of seeking to exercise pressure on the president."

BODIES OF TRAIN ROBBERS AWAIT FINAL DISPOSAL

Bodies of Men Killed Friday Morning Not Yet Claimed

(By The Associated Press)
WITTENBURG, Mo., Nov. 3.—The bodies of John S. "Jack" Kennedy, 52, notorious robber of western Missouri, and Harvey Logan, a companion, who were killed early today by railroad detectives and postoffice inspectors after the men had robbed a passenger train of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad near here, lay in a local establishment tonight, awaiting disposition.

During the day a steady stream of curious persons came to view the remains of the men, one of whom, Kennedy, had for many years defied the law and outwitted the efforts of the shrewdest detectives to capture him.

The bandits help up and robbed the train of registered mail at Seventy Six, a water tank station near here and reached this town on the engine of the train which they uncoupled, when eleven officers laying in wait covered them with revolvers and ordered them to halt.

The men, who were aiming to reach their automobile which was hidden in the brush and make their escape drew their revolvers and fell dead in a hail of bullets which the officers poured at them. The mail was recovered.

Kennedy was known by the sobriquet of "The Quail Hunter" following his arrest in Kansas City one winter morning in 1897. There had been a sleet storm the night before and at daybreak a patrolman saw a horse slip and a rider fall. It was Kennedy and a train robbers' paraphernalia was found in his custody. It was presumed he was on his way to obtain a train, but he denied this, asserting he was starting on a quail hunting expedition. He was released.

CROWD WATCHED GAS WELL DEMONSTRATION

Shooting Flames and Rush of Gas Gave Proof of Great Pressure.

A great throng of people gathered at the Andrew Harris farm northeast of Jacksonville Friday night to be spectators when P. C. Irwin lighted the gas well which he recently drilled there. A pipe thirty feet high was attached to the well casing and the gas lighted. It was turned on slowly and when the full volume was given the flames shot up fully 25 feet further in the air.

Still another pipe was attached at the side of the casing and another flame shot out in a horizontal direction. The gas roared with such a violence that the din kept spectators at a respectful distance from the well. In fact, many of them remained in their cars along the roadway and viewed the demonstration from quarters that were certainly safe.

The size of the well was a surprise to all those who had not visited it before. As earlier stories have indicated, the capacity of this well has been estimated at 5,000,000 feet and that estimate does not seem to be exaggerated. It is not at all surprising, in view of this fact, that Mr. Irwin who drilled this well in, is feeling very sanguine about the prospect of a great and profitable Morgan county field.

BRINGS DAMAGE SUIT FOR TRESPASS

Charles Stewart Sues William Mitcherson for $3,000 for Alleged Alienation of Wife's Affection.

Charles G. Stewart is the plaintiff in a trespass suit brought yesterday against William H. Mitcherson, alias "Box" Mitcherson, in which damages in the sum of $3,000 are asked. William E. Thomson is the attorney for the complainant.

The complainant charges that beginning about March 1, 1922, the defendant began a course of conduct to alienate and destroy the affections of his wife, Lulu Stewart. The husband declares that Mitcherson carried on secret and confidential conversations with Mrs. Stewart, coaxed and flattered her, and made many promises of love and held various clandestine meetings with the complainant's wife. He charges further that the defendant gave his wife various presents and things of value, and by various arts and schemes alienated and destroyed his wife's regard for him.

The complainant alleges further that because of these things he has suffered mental anguish and pain and has been humiliated among his neighbors and friends and otherwise damaged.

LABOR BOARD IS HEARING ALTON OVERTIME CASE

W. G. Beard, Receiver, Completed Argument Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Reasserting that present rules with its train service brotherhoods and yardmen force the Chicago & Alton to spend large sums of money annually for overtime, characterized as an "uncontrollable expense" because of the peculiar territorial problems confronting the road, Receiver W. G. Beard today closed his argument before the railroad labor board in support of a submission requesting abolition of punitive overtime change in the basic day for short turn-around crews and elimination of the clause preventing double heading.

The four brotherhood organizations—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Order of Railroad Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Yardmen opened their opposing Mr. Beard's statement.

Their several arguments—including the yardmen's, were to be presented by S. A. Boone, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

In his argument Mr. Beard asserted that the Chicago & Alton is the most densely trafficked road west of the Allegheny mountains making it imperative to establish short turn-around runs. Crews receive overtime altho in reality the actual hours worked may not exceed four in one day.

Mr. Boone made immediate objection to Mr. Beard's argument for abolition of punitive overtime, charging that it was the only means the men had of securing for themselves a regular and uniform working day. He strenuously objected to Mr. Beard's statement that in his opinion the punitive overtime rule was put in force during government control only as an expedient and temporary measure. The employees probably will conclude their arguments tomorrow.

A THOUGHT

In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made each one for himself to worship, to the moles and to the bats.—Isaiah 2:20.

A man who does not know how to learn from his mistakes turns the best schoolmaster out of his life.—Henry Ward Beecher.

One more or less clever advocate of cancellation of debts due the United States tries to camouflage flag his argument by saying that it is proposed that debts be "reciprocally forgiven." But reciprocity requires a concession on both sides. The United States will gladly cancel $11,000,000,000 of debt to Europe whenever Europe is ready to reciprocate by cancellation of a like amount due from us. The trouble is that the advocates of cancellation talk about reciprocity when no reciprocity is proposed. They want the United States to be the ultimate bearer of all the losses of cancellation.

In seeking the office of county commissioner, G. A. Dunlap has made no promises other than that if elected he will give the public business the same thought and care that he has applied to his own affairs. That is a sufficient promise for Mr. Dunlap is a conservative and successful business farmer. He has been associated with public affairs enough thru the years to give him a general knowledge of county business. He has a reputation for stability and integrity and will be a safe official in the handling of county business.

A vote for the special sanatorium tax will mean that authority will be given the county board for the raising of a moderate fund to make possible the proper operation of the sanatorium. Oak Lawn today is a going concern. That it is doing effective work can be proven from the records or by inspection of the sanatorium.

If the work is to be done efficiently and if it is to increase in volume, the funds must be provided. A tax of not to exceed one mill will not be a burden upon the property owner and the end justifies the proposed expenditure.

RADIO FUTURE.

A prophetic vision of radio's future comes from Wellesley, Mass., where Roger Babson, business expert, backs a movement to build a "wireless community church."

In this church, at different hours each Sunday, religious services for all denominations will be conducted by radio.

For instance, Baptists would get their service 10 to 11 in the morning, then would follow hours for Methodists, etc.

What Babson has in mind is eventually a national radio service by which isolated communities will get the best music and the best preaching available.

The services will be picked up in the homes by other millions of people, when high grade radio outfits become cheap.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

Now

By Berton Braley

I'm weary of hearing
The folks who are jeering
And scolding and sneering
Away
And fretting and stewing
At aims we are pursuing
And all we are doing
Today!

WAS all the past merry?
Believe me, not very;
Few people were airy
And gay;
The average person
Had more cause for cursing
And got along worse'n
Today!

WE'RE far from perfection,
But after reflection
And with circumspection
I'll say,
That though I'm demurring
At much that's occurring,
Life's vivid and stirring
Today!

art of communication. Its first form was speech. People began coming out of their separate and individual caves and congregated in small settlements as soon as they were able to trade ideas and disarm each other's suspicions by exchanging words.

Writing was the next great invention, enabling people to communicate over long distances; without coming face to face.

Then came printing. With it the germ of real civilization.

Next was the telegraph evolved from the primitive system of communicating long distance by relays of tom-toms or puffs from beacon fires.

The telephone crowded close on the heels of the telegraph. Now it's radio.

The next step may be mental telepathy.

A FORWARD STEP FOR STATE SCHOOLS.

The placing of the School for the Deaf and the school for the Blind in this city in the educational division in the department of public welfare will be distinctly helpful to these institutions.

There are many rules applicable to charitable institutions which are not advantageous for educational institutions.

In a special department the schools can be given the advantage of separate supervision and of rules and regulations that are particularly adapted to them.

The superintendents of the schools in advocating the change emphasized the fact that the organization of the new department will be an aid in encouraging pupils to attend the schools.

It often happens that the parents of deaf and blind children hesitate about giving them to the institutions listed among the "charitable" institutions of the state. They feel differently with reference to schools and educational institutions, and so there are reasons for believing that the attendance will be increased by the change made, and the department of welfare should be credited with making a forward step.

To increase the attendance of the blind and deaf will mean that the schools are filling a larger place, doing the work for which they were intended in a more efficient way.

WILL IRWIN MAY VISIT CITY AGAIN

Well Known Writer Makes Acknowledgment of Invitation Extended by Mayor Crabtree for City.

Will Irwin, famous among American journalists and who gave Jacksonville a fine bit of advertising in a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, promises that he'll motor this way again.

After the article mentioned had appeared, Mayor Crabtree wrote a letter to Mr. Irwin expressing appreciation of Jacksonville for the mention made and inviting the writer to stop here again.

In his letter to Mr. Irwin Mr. Crabtree said:

My dear Mr. Irwin: Jacksonville has read with great pleasure your article in the Saturday Evening Post, under date of October 7th, and our regret is that we did not know you were going through, so that we might have had the pleasure of entertaining you and Mrs. Irwin.

and have been able to show you many other beauty spots of Jacksonville, that you perhaps did not see on your way through. Jacksonville has a history that you perhaps knew nothing about.

In 1827 a band of Yale students started the Illinois College in this city, the first college to be opened in the state of Illinois, and it was they who started the planting of the elm trees, and gave Jacksonville her stamp that has ever since made its impression.

Should you be coming this way again, we invite you and Mrs. Irwin to be our guests.

It will be a pleasure to give you our best.

I am writing this letter at the suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce, and I trust that some of these days you may be able to accept our invitation.

Very truly yours,
E.E. Crabtree,
Mayor.

Mr. Irwin's Reply
Yesterday a reply came from Mr. Irwin which read as follows:

Pon Du Lac, Wis.,
Nov. 2, 1922.
Dear Mr. Crabtree:

Thank you very much for your letter of Oct. 17. If Mrs. Irwin and I come your way again, you bet we'll stop! Next time we go motoring we'll take the same route in order to accept your invitation.

I'm on a lecture tour and your letter didn't reach me until this morning, which accounts for the delayed reply. I don't live in Auburn, but just started my trip from a visit there—my permanent address is 240 West Eleventh street, New York.

Yours very truly,
Will Irwin.

WILLS ARE FILED IN CASS COUNTY COURT

Two wills filed for probate recently in the Cass county court dispose of property valued at about $175,000. One is the will of the late Marcus L. Crum and the other that of Dr. C. M. Hubbard.

Mr. Crum's estate is estimated at about $150,000 and all real estate and personal property is left to the widow until her death, after which it is to be divided between the three children of the testator.

In his will Dr. Hubbard left a drug store to one son, Harry Hubbard, and the remainder of the property is to be divided between the three children.

Among scattered visitors from outlying towns and districts Friday were, Art Swain, Sinclair; Tom Newell, Prentice; Arthur Crum, Virginia; Ernest Loughery, Concord; Mrs. John Tuschner, Mercedosia; and E. L. Roberts, Alexander.

GIFT CAMPAIGN AUTO BIDS CLOSE

Merchants' Committee Choosing Finest and Most Abundant Gifts That Its Money Will Buy.

Four sealed bids were in the hands of officials of the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Friday afternoon, a fifth was expected by night, and three more will be turned in before 10:30 this morning, making special prices for the gift campaign on high grade cars. Several bids on cars of lower price were expected to be in by the same hour.

Numerous articles of furniture have already been purchased from local merchants at no-profit prices to be put on display as soon after Monday morning as the store room at the north square corner of Main street can be cleaned and decorated to give them a fitting background. The newest and the finest in this line will be included among the gifts of January 3 to the city shoppers. But this is just a starter on the committee's $5,000 list, which will include the city's best goods.

HARRY NORRIS
Republican Candidate for Assessor and Treasurer

Harry Norris has made a quiet campaign for the office of assessor and treasurer but as far as possible has let the voters know that if elected he will be faithful to the resulting trust. Mr. Norris belongs to a family well known in Morgan county and has the experience that qualifies him for the office he is seeking.

In the office of assessor and treasurer the affairs of the county and of the individual tax payer should be handled justly. Mr. Norris would make such service his ideal and public interest will be served by his election next Tuesday.

Mrs. H. T. DePew and Mrs. Montie Funk were Chapin people seen here Friday.

Miss Hazel McCarty was in from Arenzville Friday.

C. P. & ST. L. FUTURE QUESTION FOR COURTS

Bondholders Seek Right to "Scrap" The Property—President of Another Road Tells Why C. P. & St. L. Should Be Saved.

Jacksonville has great interest in the fate of the C. P. & St. L. road which will be decided when the petition of the bondholders to abandon the road is heard in the Sangamon county circuit court this month.

The hearing has been set for Nov. 13. The bond holders are asking authority to discontinue the road because of their claim that the earnings are not sufficient to pay the ordinary costs of operation and maintenance, to say nothing of the interest upon the bonded indebtedness.

The abandonment of the road would be a great loss to many cities and the hope will continue that some other road may find it of advantage to acquire the C. P. & St. L. property and make it a part of a system.

The viewpoint that the C. P. & St. L. may yet come to some other ownership is reflected in a statement appearing in the Illinois State Journal from B. A. Worthington, president of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Western road, who was in Springfield Thursday.

Mr. Worthington denied that his visit had anything to do with the coming hearing, but admitted that he had made an inspection of the road some months ago and firmly held the belief that the property should not be "scrapped."

Reviews Road Assets
"I will say, unofficially," said Mr. Worthington last night, as he sat in his private car in the C. I. & W. yards, "that the C. P. & St. L. is much too good a road to be scrapped. In the interest of the public good, as well as from the standpoint of the railroads, it should be absorbed by some road with east and west connections."

The road has about 247 miles of track, 75 per cent of which is in passable shape. The rolling stock is somewhat out of repair, but it could be put in shape and used with profit. The road has about 1,800 freight cars, thirty-eight coaches and about fifty-one locomotives. Control of 25 per cent of the stock in the Peoria & Pekin Union terminal stock is valuable, as is also their St. Louis terminals. The road serves a territory, which will show great development under proper conditions.

The fate of the road rests with the bondholders, those holding the prior lien on the property, amounting to about $2,000,000. If the road is scrapped these people can get their money at once. If another railroad system were to take over the road, it would be necessary that these bondholders take stock in the new organization, in place of their former holdings. It might mean a few years to wait, but the property would undoubtedly pay its way within a few years, and the stock would have a good value. The company taking over the C. P. & St. L. would have to put about $3,000,000 in improvements and repairs. With the $800,000 current debts which the road has, no big system will absorb the road unless the present owners take part pay in stock in the new organization.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking laxatives, or trying to push up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c

Do You Suffer From Backache or Pain in Your Side

THEN READ THIS

Champaign, Ill.—"For over six years I suffered with woman's weakness; my health became so bad that I could scarcely get around the house. At times I would be in bed from three to six weeks, during which time I suffered untold agony from backaches and pains in my left side. I was such a nervous condition that I did not rest at night and at times I was so bad I would just want to scream. I doctored all this time without relief—was told the only way I could get well was to have an operation, but I would not consent to this. Then I decided to give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a trial. I have taken it only about three months, and the results have been perfectly marvelous. My health is better than it has been for years. I am able to do all my own work, including washing, a thing I had not done for years. I cannot thank Dr. Pierce and his Favorite Prescription enough for the help I have received. I only hope that my testimony may induce some other suffering woman to try Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. Louise Tarter, 305 West Euclid St., N. Y., for free medical advice.

Tested

THE QUALITY of vitrified paving brick always is certain, tangible, determinable before the brick are laid on the road. Their durability can be measured with exactness before the taxpayers money has been spent. This is one of the reasons for public confidence in VITRIFIED Brick PAVEMENTS Weaknesses of substitute and less durable surfaces can not be discovered until after the pavement is down and the taxpayers' money has been spent. This is because such wearing surfaces are not and can not be tested in advance in the same manner and with the same definite assurance of foretelling behavior under traffic as can brick surfaces. Advance testing is only one of many reasons why brick pavements last so long and cost so little for annual maintenance and repair.

When you need an estimate on your electric wiring requirements for house, office, store or factory do you shop around for the cheapest price irrespective of quality, service or reputation?

Or do you send at once for a reputable contractor who, by long experience, knows his business, gives reliable advice and service, keeps his promises and guarantees his work? An estimate based on "value received" may be a little higher but it is the one you should accept.

Rogers Gains 20 Pounds; Feels Like a Boy

"I have actually gained twenty pounds by taking Tanlac and am now as healthy as when I was a school boy," recently declared George Rogers, 426 California Ave., Chicago, Ill., dining car steward on the Grand Trunk Rail way between Chicago and Detroit.

"Before I took Tanlac indigestion and loss of appetite had pulled me down until a trip on the road would almost completely exhaust me, and I would get home feeling so nervous I seldom got any restful sleep.

"Since taking Tanlac I feel so well that my run is a pleasure and I get back home feeling as spry and active as when I start out. I haven't a touch of indigestion or nervousness, eat when I want and sleep like a top. One of the boys on the road put me on to Tanlac and I want to pass the good news on. It is grand."

who are given at this school opportunity for development along special lines.

About one-third of the expenses of the operation of the school are paid from the endowment fund or from the return from the large farm included in the school property. Another one-third is paid by cities or counties who send boys to the school, or by organizations, and additional funds result from solicitation.

In discussing general phases of boys' work Mr. Phillips said that some of the present needs arise because of changed conditions. There is not the home life that used to be true, and the boys and girls today do not have as much companionship from their parents as was true in earlier years.

The speaker said that too often boys get the wrong idea of life by seeing on the screen pictures that show how people of wealth live. They get erroneous ideas of life and an appetite is created for the pleasures and luxuries without due emphasis upon the work necessary to earn these things.

It is because of these present day tendencies that there is a greater need for work with boys making certain that they are equipped so that they may see things in the right relationship, so that they may not start out to sea in open boats and without oars.

Before Mr. Phillips' address the club had the pleasure of hearing a group of songs by Miss Ruth Armstrong of the conservatory, with Miss Virginia Spink as accompanist.

The guest list of the day included Dr. Trippler and Dr. McJin. Jacksonville state hospital; E. D. Sweet, Cherryvale, Kan.; P. E. Tumblety, of Boston; Dr. W. K. McLaughlin, Chicago; L. N. Gerve, Chicago; Craig Venmeter, Mattoon.

Editor Jacksonville Journal,

Dear Sir:—
After careful investigation following a political controversy relative to the candidacy of Senator John A. Wheeler in the April Primary, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League F. Scott McBride, who has been in close touch with the political affairs of Illinois for more than ten years, together with the Headquarters committee, unanimously endorsed Senator John A. Wheeler, Law and Order candidate for re-election. Senator Wheeler has a good record for law enforcement, fought by the wet faction on account of this record, entitled to dry vote on his record and leadership.
The Anti-Saloon League urge every dry voter to support the League's endorsed candidates. Dr. John A. Wheeler stands square against the nullification of the United States Constitution.
Yours for law enforcement,
GEORGE H. YULE,
Supt. Central District.

Oats for women who are rushed

Your grocer now has Instant Quaker Oats, the quickest cooking in the world. It cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes.

The same extra quality as in regular Quaker Oats. Both are flaked on queen grains only—just the plump, fluffy oats. Both have a matchless flavor which makes Quaker Oats supreme.

But in Instant Quaker the oats are rolled thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that's all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

Get the style you want. The Instant Quaker is marked "Instant" on the label.

Vasconcellos for County Superintendent

In some offices an official can become acquainted with his duties in a few weeks. In others, where routine is not pronounced, a longer time is required to become familiar with the work. The office of county superintendent of schools comes under the latter class. To serve best, the head of the school system must have high qualifications and experience.

Herbert H. Vasconcellos, the present incumbent, meets the qualifications of the office. He possesses a Supervisor's certificate, has the required preparation and training, and in every way meets the requirements for an effective administration of school affairs.

The law makes the county superintendent the interpreter of the school law for all school officers and interested parties. Mr. Vasconcellos has made the study of school law a specialty and is well versed in this line.

Morgan county schools were never in a more flourishing condition, not only on the educational side, but on the physical side as well. More than half the rural schools meet the "Standard School" requirements, and there is not a single school that does not meet the requirements in most respects. Morgan county has one of the 38 rural Superior Schools in the state.

The standard of the teaching force is much higher than formerly. The average teacher is far above the minimum requirements set by the State Examining Board of the Department of Education.

In the election of a superintendent of schools, the business side of the office should also be considered. Such a position requires a person of business ability and mature judgment.

A vote for Mr. Vasconcellos is a vote to continue the educational affairs of this county in the hands of a thoroughly experienced and capable man.

FIRE DAMAGES ROBERTSON HOME

Started Apparently from Defective Wiring—Loss Will Run Several Thousand Dollars.

Fire which started apparently from defective wiring damaged the residence of Mrs. John Robertson, 1133 West Lafayette avenue to the amount of about $7,000 Friday morning.

The blaze was discovered about 11:30 o'clock and had started in the second story. It burned its way thru to the attic and gained such headway that the firemen had difficulty in preventing the entire structure from being destroyed.

The roof was destroyed and the second story damaged. The damage in the first floor is mainly from water.

A few minutes after the fire was discovered many neighbors and other citizens were on the scene. Most of the furniture was carried out and but little damage was done except from breakage. A quantity of old furniture and materials stored in the attic was burned.

The property is valued at $35,000. Chief Hunt estimated the loss at about $7,000 which is fully covered by insurance. The value of the contents is placed at $15,000 and there was not much damage. The furniture was not fully insured but enough probably was carried to cover whatever loss occurred.

The Robertson home was erected by the late John Robertson about thirty years ago and was one of the finest in the city. It is not known what Mrs. Robertson's plans for rebuilding are.

SEEKS DATA ON SCHOOL WORK

Superintendent Shafer Sends Out Blanks to Teachers — Want Pupils to Do More Than Just Pass in Work.

An effort is being made thru the use of blanks sent out by B. P. Shafer, superintendent of the Jacksonville schools, to find out what class of work is being done by the students in the city. On the whole the reports for the term show that very good work is being done but on the other hand it is desired that the teachers and students may guard against the tendency to become satisfied with merely a passing grade of work.

It is found that a large number of students are able to do a much higher grade of work than they are doing at the present time and the superintendent is calling for a report of a number of students in the different grades who are failing to make a passing grade.

Also an estimate is asked of the number of students who are falling short of what might be expected of them, even tho they are at present doing a passing grade of work. It is the student of the latter class which forms a more serious problem than the student who, in spite of industry is unable to make a passing grade.

Edward A. Brennan and George W. Scott have disposed of their holdings in the McFarlan hotel at Connersville to J. W. Reichle. Mr. Scott will return here for the present but probably will take up the management of a hotel in some other city. They have in view several properties which they may acquire in the near future. The Connersville News-Examiner has the following to say of the recent transaction.

The McFarlan hotel, a modern hostelry, one that has enjoyed a prosperous patronage for many years, today passed from ownership and management of the Hyatt Hotel company, the property and good will of the institution being purchased by J. W. Reichle, formerly a hotel proprietor in this city. Announcement of the sale was made this morning by E. A. Brennan, president of the Hyatt Hotel company and George W. Scott, local manager and secretary and treasurer of the company. Mr. Scott will remain in Connersville during the next ten days or two weeks, he announced, but he will not engage in any form of business in this city for the present as he has other interests that demand his attention. Mr. Reichle, the new owner, and his wife are in Connersville today. Mr. Reichle will be the active manager. He has had considerable experience in the operation of hotels and he has been interested in trying to secure the McFarlan hotel for some time, especially since it was remodeled. The terms and amount of the sale were not made public but it is understood that the agreement and price were agreeable to both parties.

Have Other Interests
Mr. Brennan and Mr. Scott are interested financially in other hotels. They own and operate the Pacific at Jacksonville, Illinois, and the Frances at Pana, Illinois. Mr. Scott is a native of Illinois, having been engaged in the hotel business in that state practically all his life. He will return to his home soon and after a brief rest he will begin a survey of Illinois and other states with a view of acquiring other hotel property. Mr. Scott was one of the most amiable hotel managers, his patrons declare, in this state. He has been a resident of Connersville two and a half years. He has made many friends socially and he is well liked among his business associates and acquaintances. He made special effort to please his guests and he enthused his employees with his own ideas. He gave the hostelry his best efforts and always had the comfort of his guests in mind. The manager is affiliated with several fraternal organizations, being a Mason, Elk, Moose, Red Man, and he also is a member of the Connersville Kiwanis Club and the local Chamber of Commerce.

At the close of the afternoon a short social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

AUTOMOTIVE MEN PLAN CHARITY WORK

Will Inaugurate Campaign for Hospital Funds and Salvation Army—Also to Cooperate in Gift Campaign.

At the regular meeting of the Automotive Dealers' association held last night at the Danlap hotel the question of continuing the work of raising funds to finish equipping a room in the new annex to Our Savior's Hospital, the isolation ward at Passavant and assisting the Salvation Army in the winter's work, was brought up and discussed, and it was decided that President Berger would appoint a committee of five to take this matter in hand and get to work at once on plans.

It will be remembered that the association gave two public dances during the summer for the hospitals and made a donation toward the army's charity work. The association believes that it can provide entertainment for a large portion of the residents of this vicinity that will be greatly enjoyed and that will make the expense per person availing himself of the amusement very small but which in the aggregate will net a nice sum for each of these worthy institutions.

Louis Horen, a guest of the association Friday night, gave an interesting outline of the gift campaign to be staged by the merchants of Jacksonville during the coming weeks. The matter was gone into in all its phases and Mr. Horen was assured of the hearty support of the association for himself and the committee which he represents from the Chamber of Commerce.

The business meeting of the association was preceded by a six o'clock baked chicken dinner and was greatly enjoyed by the members present.

AUTOMOBILE CRASH ON WEST STATE STREET

Samuel Harris and Al Jensen attempted to drive across the same intersection at the same time early Friday morning, with the result that both damaged cars had to be pushed off the street car track at West State and West streets before the 8 o'clock car could get to the square.

Neither driver was injured, and both took their mishap good naturedly.

Dr. Harker made a talk stressing the three aims of a college education and this was followed by the singing of the class hymn, "I Would Be True." The exercises ended with the singing of the college song. There are twenty-four girls in the class of '23 and Miss Eloise Calhoun of Franklin is the president of the class.

HOW TRAINING FOR DISABLED VETS HELPS

Illinois and especially central Illinois has always had just cause to feel proud of the achievements of its young men in the country's affairs both in times of peace and in times of war. The cases of Howard G. Knotts and Gerald G. Ginnevan of Springfield, Illinois are not exceptions to the rule.

Both of these men have proven that in time of war they could be all their country could ask as defenders and they are now proving that in time of peace they can be useful, productive citizens in their community.

In July, 1919 Howard G. Knotts enlisted in the air service and was soon commissioned as a second lieutenant. With his outfit he was sent overseas and took part in many of the most important battles of the war. Among these were the Amiens Offensive, the Somme engagement, Cambrai, on British front, and submarine base bombing expeditions in Flanders. Mr. Knotts was cited several times by both the British and American armies for exceptional bravery and gallant action. He was awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross of Great Britain for his services while attached to a British outfit. At Balamus while serving in a Canadian contingent, he received machine gun wounds in the left chest and nose but after receiving first aid treatment he refused to go to the hospital and returned to the lines. Again on October 14, 1918 while fighting at Cambrai a machine gun bullet penetrated his right ankle and he was taken prisoner by the Germans. During the period of his imprisonment he received no medical treatment and this would become badly infected. In November he escaped from the enemy and succeeded in returning to his own lines. From that time until the date of his discharge in April 1919, Mr. Knotts was in the hospital both on the other side of the water and in the states.

Previous to his enlistment in the army Howard Knotts had been a student and had worked in the coal mines during the summer to help defray his expenses thru school. Soon after he returned home he decided to apply for Government assistance in training which he heard was offered thru the United States Veterans' Bureau to men disabled like himself. He was immediately approved for training and in 1920 he began his course in law at the Harvard Law School. In December, 1921 he completed this, received his degree and returned to his home in Springfield, Illinois. Mr. Knotts is now engaged in the practice of law in that city.

Gerald G. Ginnevan enlisted in May 1917 and went overseas as a sergeant in Co. A, 6th Engineers. He too, took part in practically all of the major engagements including Champagne-Marne, St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne, Annals and Chateau Thierry until July 15, 1918 when he was badly gassed. He was sent to the hospitals behind the lines for a few weeks but he insisted on re-joining his outfit and in August 1918 was returned to the lines. On Oct. 26, 1918 while fighting he was severely wounded. From that time until his discharge in September 1919 Mr. Ginnevan was in the hospital.

After his return from the army, he decided to take up the study of law. And in October 1920 he began under government supervision, to read law in the offices of Sampson and Griffin during the day. At night he attended the Illinois College of Law and in this way secured both the practical and theoretical side of law at the same time. In June 1921, Mr. Ginnevan completed his training, was admitted to the bar and opened his own office for the practice of law.

Mr. Ginnevan's and Mr. Knotts' cases are only two of the many thousands handled thru the Eighth District Office of the Veterans' Bureau at 111 North Canal Street, Chicago, Illinois. But these two young men have proven the worth of the Vocational training program of the Government, and they typify the spirit of the disabled man of the war—namely to become useful, productive citizens in spite of the severest disabilities.

FARM ADVISOR
RETURNS HOME

George B. Kendall Attended District Conference of Farm Advisors in Springfield.

County Farm Advisor George B. Kendall returned yesterday from Springfield where he attended the district conference of farm advisors. One of the most interesting facts out at the sessions which were held Wednesday and Thursday at the St. Nicholas hotel, was that brought out by W. H. Smith new state director of farm advisors. Mr. Smith stated that in the cotton feeding work at the university of Illinois, soy bean meal has proved just as profitable as oil meal. This indicates that the soy bean growers will be able to command better prices from the commercial organizations handling their products, than had been anticipated.

Former United States Senator L. Y. Sherman spoke on the new state constitution and brot out facts which prove that the adoption of the new constitution for Illinois, is of the utmost importance and interest to the farmers and land owners. In 1870 the population of Illinois showed that fourteen per cent of the people lived in the city of Chicago and that the other eighty-six per cent lived downstate. In 1920 the census reports show that fifty-three per cent of Illinois residents live downstate and that only other forty-seven per cent reside in the City of Chicago. This shows that the population of the state is drifting steadily away from the small communities and farms toward the larger cities.

In the city there is a large foreign born element and if allowed to do so this element would eventually dominate the state government. The new constitution provides that only 19 state senators shall be chosen from Chicago and 35 from downstate. The representation from Cook county is not to be limited however. This curtailment of representation from the large cities is substantially the same step which the state of New York took several years ago when it limited the representation from the City of New York.

The new constitution also abolishes minority representation. According to Ex-Senator Sherman the usefulness of the minority representation is now at an end. It provides for the taxation of tangible property which now evades taxation. Nine-tenths of the people in Chicago pay no taxes at all. The new tax provision in the constitution shifts the burden of taxation from the land owners and farmers to the city residents, who now evade the greater amount of taxation.

On November 24 there will be a meeting of representatives of all the farm bureau organizations in the twentieth congressional district at Jacksonville. The purpose of this meeting will be to bring the new constitution before the people of the agricultural communities. The facts stated above show that the new constitution is of vital interest to the farmer and that a thorough understanding of its provisions will be invaluable to him.

NOTE---Originals of the above affidavit copies are in the hands now of the Sangamon County Republican Central Committee.

Republicans can read the above affidavits and conclude for themselves what Senator Wheeler's tactics as a "Law and Order" candidate for State Senator are.

There were approximately 1000 alleged signatures from Morgan county to the Wheeler independent petition. Of this number, 910 were of Democrats. All but one of those who circulated the petition in this county are Democrats.

Of the 2200 names attached to the Wheeler "Law and Order" petition, approximately 800 are now known that were not qualified voters at the time of signing, or whose names were signed for them. The above affidavits reveal the methods, in this respect, that were used.

Of the total number of 2200 alleged signers of the Wheeler petition, 85% are Democrats.

John A. Wheeler is parading himself as a friend of the Republican party in Morgan county. His active managers here are Democrats, past or present. In his home county, Sangamon, Mr. Wheeler is rather openly espousing the cause of the Democratic county ticket. Yet he assumes to be a friend of the Morgan county Republican ticket. Such are his means of attempting to secure strength—for himself.

If, in their zeal to protect John A. Wheeler, a few hundred Republicans of this county spoil ballots in scratching, or fail to come back to the Republican county ticket, after scratching, the entire Morgan county Republican ticket will be defeated. Mr. Wheeler knows this, yet he assumes to be a friend of Republican interests in this county.

Morgan county soon will have an active voice in the election of members of the Illinois General Assembly. On the eve of this event, Mr. Wheeler appears in an attempt to split the party—in the interests solely of his own personal advancement. He has had honors bestowed upon him for twenty-five years by the Republican party, and this is the manner in which he shows his gratitude.

I believe, when a political party speaks in its own Primary, candidates ought to abide by such Primary decision. This is especially true if the result is decisive, as it was in Mr. Wheeler's case last April. I believe, if a candidate cannot agree to stand, by the majority decision of his party, he ought to get out of politics and stay out. When a man attempts to drag a fragment of his party off on false issues, in the pursuit of selfish interests, there is something wrong with the man, not the party.

Wheeler stood, last session, for extravagant bureaus and commissions. He tried to destroy civil service. My position, in this respect, was against the things he was for.

I am for lower taxes, but lower taxes will never come if our public servants insist on tearing down the gates of spoils. The Republican party is headed toward lower taxes and genuine economy. It is poor time, now, for any man, many times honored, to try to tear down the party. If Mr. Wheeler had had the interests of the Republican party in this county at heart, he would have played the part of a good losing Republican, and would have refused to attempt a party split.

As the Republican nominee, whose victory was a fair and square and decisive party decision, I ask that such tactics as we are now witnessing be repudiated at the polls next Tuesday. I am for the Republican ticket of Morgan county, as well as of this Senatorial district.

Market Report

By The Associated Press

PRICES CONTINUED TO MOVE UPWARD

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Prices continued to move to higher ground in today's stock market but the movement was interrupted at times by extensive profit-taking and experimental short selling in an attempt to uncover weak spots.

An announcement of an increase in prices by the Studebaker corporation brought a rally which carried a number of stocks to their highest levels of the day. Studebaker gained 3 points.

U. S. Steel common was pushed up more than 2 points to 107½, all offerings being readily absorbed.

The advance of the past two days has brought about a substantial reduction of the short interest but the volume of sales which totaled only 971,000 shares today indicates that the covering operations are far from completion.

Mexican Petroleum again assumed leadership of the oil group with a net gain of nearly four points, but the allied Pan-American issues were heavy dropping more than a point each.

Standard Oil of New Jersey preferred improved a point. Call money opened at five per cent but eased off to 4½ and then to 4¼, where it closed. A large volume of time money is being placed at five per cent, the bulk of the loans being made for three and four months' maturity.

Out of town banks are the principal buyers of commercial paper, the rate for which continues at 4½ per cent with a few sellings as low as 4¼. Sterling advanced slightly despite a heavy offering of cotton and commercial bills, while heaviness was noted in the French rate.

German marks dropped to another new low record at 19.16 cents a hundred, but allied later to 12.

Total bond sales, par value, were $16,983,000.
